

Marc's biography

Marc Priestley

Motivational speaker from the world of F1 racing

AKA 'Elvis', Marc Priestley worked as an F1 race mechanic, pit-stop crew member and in team management at one of F1's most successful organisations, McLaren Racing, for almost a decade.

About Marc Priestley

Marc Priestley has stood in the pitlane as cars approach at motorway speeds, stopping centimetres away, where he and his team come together in perfect synchronicity to change tyres in little more than two seconds and get the car back into the race.

Mark has worked with an impressive and long list of drivers and a number of World Champions including Mika Hakkinen, Fernando Alonso, Kimi Raikkonen, Jenson Button and Lewis Hamilton.

Marc now shares his experiences and knowledge with businesses around the world – and offers unique lessons in such areas as rapid productivity, marginal gains, data analysis and of course teamwork.