

Phillip Schofield

Popular TV presenter hosting innumerable programmes such as 'This Morning' and 'Dancing on Ice'

A well-loved household name, Phillip Schofield has been on our TV screens for years. His rich and vast presenting history makes him a great awards host or conference facilitator.

Phillip's biography

Phillip Schofield's background

Phillip started out in New Zealand fronting 'Shazam!'. He returned to the UK to present the new BBC Children's show The Broom Cupboard and went on to present multiple series of Going Live, Take Two, The Movie Game and Schofield's Europe, as well as touring successful theatre productions such as Joseph and the Technicolor Dreamcoat and Dr Doolittle.

Phillip remains one of the principle faces for ITV where he enjoys a versatile set of shows.

Phillip started to co-present This Morning with Fern Britton in 2002 and shortly after signed an exclusive contract with ITV. He remains one of the principle faces for the channel where he has hosted a versatile set of shows such as the British Soap Awards, The Cube, Mr and Mrs, You're Back In The Room, 5 Gold Rings, Schofield's South African Adventure and most recently the return of Dancing On Ice!

He continues to host This Morning where he has struck up a successful partnership with his 'on-screen wife' Holly Willoughby, which has since earned them a whole host of awards for the show!

He is a major wine enthusiast and is proud to be working alongside Waitrose, recommending wines to accompany menus throughout their various platforms. He has also recently become the first UK brand ambassador for Princess Cruises which has encapsulated all of his interests...and look out for him 'just being Phil' on the new We Buy Any Car adverts #SoSchofield.

