

Alysia Judge

One of the UK's premier speakers and broadcasters on gaming

Alysia Judge is an award-winning journalist, presenter and producer, Alysia specialises in video games, entertainment, film, technology, cultural analysis, women in tech, and education.

Alysia's biography

Who is Alysia Judge?

She's a regular host for BAFTA's Game Awards and masterclasses and currently creates popular videos for Netflix's UK YouTube channel. Alysia produced and scripted The Gaming Show on iPlayer for BBC Radio 1 and is part of the MCV Future 100 List. She speaks fluent Spanish and has given keynote addresses on gaming internationally from Sweden to Guatemala. ?

Warm, insightful and charismatic, Alysia is a brilliant communicator. She shares her passion with devoted fans and those keen to learn more about the games industry – which is a global economic powerhouse – exciting and delighting the minds of a generation. ?

Alysia has been invited on Channel 4 News, the BBC, and Al Jazeera as a video games expert, while her written work has been published in The Guardian, BBC, IGN, PC Gamer, and The i.

