Rashim's biography

Rashim Mogha's background

Recipient of Women Empowerment: Game Changer, Silicon Valley Woman of Influence and Women of the Year awards, Rashim is changing the way organizations think about designing solutions.

Rashim is an influencer, a thought leader, a best-selling author, a speaker, a woman in tech evangelist, and a technology leader. She empowers professionals by articulating complex technology capabilities into crisp, clear, and attainable business benefits. Her extensive career portfolio includes leadership roles in companies such as Oracle, Amazon Web Services (AWS), and VMware where she built high-performing teams to support over $2 billion businesses.

Rashim's personal story is a story of persistence, perseverance, resilience, achievements, and giving back! Rashim ran away from an arranged marriage to the United States to find her American dream...a dream that was her own rather than someone else's. Her journey wasn't easy, and she faced numerous challenges as a woman leader in technology. She now uses those life lessons and experiences to empower leaders to discover, visualize, and actualize their success.

Recognized as one of the Top 100 Keynote Speakers, Rashim has been a keynote speaker at global conferences and organisations, such as Women who Code, China-US Innovation Summit, John Hopkins University, Women in Tech, Girl Geek X, Oracle, LinkedIn, NextPlay, Women Transforming Technologies (WT2), Together Women Achieve (empowered by Dell), Women Impact Tech, Women of Silicon Valley, and University of Faculty development.

Rashim serves as an advisor for startups and her thoughts on leadership, innovation, women in technology, and enablement strategies have appeared in publications like Forbes, Association for Talent Development (ATD) and Thrive Global. Her courses on leadership are available on LinkedIn Learning. Rashim's new book, Fast-Track Your Leadership Career is a #1 Amazon bestseller.
