

Sarah Beeny

Property developer, TV presenter and brain behind mysinglefriend.com

Property developer, TV presenter who was headhunted by Channel 4 after the success of her business.

Sarah's biography

Sarah Beeny's background

After setting up her very own property development company aged just 24 with her brother and boyfriend, Sarah Beeny was headhunted by Channel 4 after the success of her business.

Becoming the nations face for property shows, Beeny fronted hit shows including; Pay Off Your Mortgage, Streets Ahead and Britain's Best Home, as well as the much loved smash hit Property Ladder.

A regular writer and contributor to magazines such as New woman and At Home, Beeny has also previously written for The Sunday Times as well as many well-known and bestselling property based books.

In 2005, Sarah changed direction a little and launched mysinglefriend.com and before long it became a phenomenon, changing the culture and view of online dating within the UK. Beeny went on to become the poster girl for online dating.

