Karl's talks

- The Future of e-commerce

Examining what the future of retails and e-commerce will look like. Post COVID-19 and with younger generations with new consumer behavior and expectations change the requirements for the industry.

- How to Increase Sales Online

With a track record of increasing conversion for global companies by more than 300% and been conversion optimizing over 1000 ecommerce sites globally.

- Consumer Behavior

I founded the very first interior design store in the Nordic countries back in 2001. That gave me an opportunity to understand the consumer at a grassroot stage, where the behavior model was diverse and with low level of experience. Since then the world have changed, and I have stayed in the forefront of innovation and will inspire you to do the same to drive your business rather than having it follow the leaders and competitors.

- E-Commerce Post Covid-19

We have seen an amazing development in the reach for online business as a result of our limited movement due to Covid-19.

Many online companies are now preparing for the backlash of the extreme growth and high cashflow. I will show you how to prepare to keep that growth rather than preparing for the backlash.

Sounds impossible, some might say, but I made it possible for many of the companies I have worked with. By understanding converting traffic and distracting data.

- Understanding Window Shopping

Why we see on an average about 3% conversion online not all are window shoppers. How to segment your visitors to find tagger groups and hack the conversion formula.
