

Matt Le Tissier

Football Pundit and Former Player

Matt le Tissier is a former Premier League and England footballer, a successful football pundit, panellist and columnist.

About Matt Le Tissier

Matt signed for Southampton FC in 1986 and stayed there for 16 years – the entirety of his career. He scored 209 goals in 540 appearances for the club and was the first midfielder to score 100 goals in the English Premier League. Matt also earned 8 caps for England from 1995 to 1998, retiring in 2002. In 2020, he was the winner of a Eurosport poll which named him the Greatest Premier League Player Ever. Since his retirement, Le Tissier has forged a successful career as a pundit and panellist. He made his name as a regular on Sky Sports' Gillette Soccer Saturday, as well as working with Paddy Power, and a long term ambassadorship with WhichBookie.

Matt was an integral part of the Harry's Heroes cast for ITV in the 2019 and 2020 series, the former being nominated for a BAFTA. He also reached the final of ITV's Eternal Glory in 2015, competing against a number of retired athletes in both physical and mental challenges. Other notable TV appearances include Countdown and A Question of Sport.

Additionally, Matt has built a strong profile as an after dinner speaker, where his genuine warmth and experiences both on and off the field are consistently well received.